21. ARMITAGE, C. H. and A. F. Montanaro. The Ashanti Campaign of 1900. By Captain C. H. Armitage, D.S.O. and Lieutenant-Colonel A. F. Montanaro, R.A. With map, plan, and illustrations. London: Sands & Co., 1901 8vo. xi,278pp. 12 illustrations on plates, plan of Kumasi, folding map, index.
The Ashanti war of 1900 was a seemingly fantastic tale of British pluck, sang-friod and heroism against a determined, dangerous and barbarous foe. Coming at a time when the Boer War wasn't going very well, this escapade helped to bolster the public belief in the armed forces of the Empire. As often, the truth itself was somewhat different. Governor Frederick Hodgson was sent to Kumasi in February 1900 where he foolishly demanded the 'Golden Stool', the symbol of Ashanti sovereignty, which supposedly had been hidden in the bush. Hodgson sent a party led by Captain Armitage into the bush to search for it, thereby provoking the Ashanti into an uprising. The 750 African soldiers and 29 Europeans were besieged inside the fort at Kumasi. Written in two parts, 'The Siege of Kumasi', by Captain Armitage and 'The Relief of Kumasi' by Lieutenant Colonel Montanaro. A fascinating account of the siege and the subsequent relief party under Lieutenant-Colonel Montanaro.
Cecil Hamilton Armitage (1869-1933) entered the Gold Coast colonial service as Assistant Inspector, Gold Coast Constabulary in 1894 and took part in the earlier Ashanti war of 1895-96. Arthur Forbes Montanaro (1862-1914), of the Royal Artillery, led the force which eventually raised the siege. Spine darkened and rubbed slightly at head and tail, with gilt lettering to spine and upper board, a nice copy in the publisher's red cloth. £ 275.00

22. ARTHUR, John. Brong Ahafo Handbook. By John Arthur. Leipzig: Buchdruckerei Richard Hahn, 1961 Wrpps, 8vo. 128pp. numerous illustrations from photographs (with many portraits), map.
Comprising a history and the current state of the region. Printed in East Germany, a very nice copy in the publisher's colour printed cream wrappers. £ 50.00

23. ATKINS, John. A Voyage to Guinea, Brazil, and the West-Indies; In His Majesty's Ships the Swallow and Weymouth. Giving a Genuine Account of the several Islands and Settlements of Madeira, the Canaries, Cape de Verd, Sierraleon, Sesthos, Cape Apollonia, Cabo Corso, and others on the Guinea Shore; Likewise Barbadoes, Jamaica, &c. in the West-Indies. Describing the Colour, Diet, Languages, Habits, Manners, Customs, and Religions of the respective Natives and Inhabitants. With Remarks on the Gold, Ivory, and Slave-Trade; and on the Winds, Tides and Currents of the several Coasts. By John Atkins, Gent. Of Plaistow, in Essex.

The Second Edition. London: Ward and Chandler, 1737
Contemporary calf, 8vo. xxv,265pp. title page vignette.
John Atkins (1685-1757), a naval surgeon, wrote this account of a naval expedition between February 1721 and May 1723 which was for the purpose of dealing with piracy on the Guinea coast. In this they were very successful, capturing 270 pirates and £10,000 worth of gold dust. He took part in the trial of several pirates at Cape Coast Castle. Contains much information on the affairs of the Guinea coast at that time and the author's contempt for the slave trade. The first edition was published in 1735 and this is basically a reissue of that edition. In a contemporary full speckled calf with gilt spine and boards, marbled endpapers, carefully rebacked with the original spine replaced, an excellent clean and crisp copy. £ 2,000.00

24. AUSTIN, Dennis. Politics in Ghana 1946 - 1960. Issued under the auspices of the Royal Institute of International Affairs. London: Oxford University Press, 1964

29. BALMER, W. T. and F. C. F. Grant. A Grammar of the Fante-Akan Language. London: The Atlantis Press, 1929 Small 8vo. 224pp. Name of previous owner to front endpaper, a very nice copy of the first edition in the publisher's dark blue cloth. £ 100.00

30. BARBOT, Jean. Description des Cotes d'Afrique. London: photocopy of author's handwritten manuscript, 1688 Roy.4to. v,165-170,v,123pp. numerous illustrations, some folding. 2 maps, 17 page index by Marion Johnson from 'History in Africa 15 (1988)' enclosed. The two volumes of Barbot's manuscript are preserved in the Public Record Office, London. This photostat copy contains his account of the Ivory Coast and the Gold Coast: vol. I pp. 165-170, vol. II pp. 1-123. From the two page type-written preface by Timothy Garrard dated 1977 in Accra. A very nice copy in a dark blue cloth. £ 60.00

31. BARKER, W. H. & Cecilia Sinclair. West African Folk-Tales. Collected and arranged by W. H. Barker, B.Sc. formerly Principal of the Government Institution, Accra and Cecilia Sinclair. With frontispiece and 23 drawings by Cecilia Sinclair. London: George G. Harrap, 1917 Roy.8vo. 184pp. 24 plates. Thirty-six 'Anansi' and other tales gathered in the Gold Coast. A very nice copy in the publisher's cloth. £ 50.00

32. BARTELS, W. Cape Coast Castle. Dedicated to Matthew Forster, Esqre. by his humble servant, W. Bartels. Engraved by C. Rosenberg. London: Published by Mr. Huggins, 105 Leadenhall Street, 1841. A mounted hand-coloured aquatint 14 x 21½ inches with good wide margins. Showing an off-shore view of Cape Coast Castle, an American vessel and a Dutch ship, the Accra, are in the foreground.

W. Bartels was a member of a well-known Dutch expatriate family and the Dutch edition of Brodie Cruickshank's Eighteen Years on the Gold Coast has a lithographed view of Elmina by Bartels, Elmina being a Dutch possession at that time. The original oil painting of Elmina is now in the Peabody Essex Museum at Salem, Mass. Matthew Forster, the MP for Berwick to whom this is dedicated, was the proprietor of Forster and Smith, which traded extensively with West Africa. He used his position to campaign against the British Government action to halt the slave trade; his company was cited by Madden's 1841 report as possibly trading with Cuban slave-traders. £ 1,000.00 †

33. BARTON, I. M. Africa in the Roman Empire. Accra: Ghana Universities Press, 1972 Wrpps, 8vo. 84pp. 5 plates, 6 maps.
With the signature of Timothy Garrard to the endpaper. £ 50.00

34. BEECHAM, John. Ashantee and the Gold Coast: Being a Sketch of the History, Social State, and Superstitions of the Inhabitants of those Countries: With a Notice of the State and Prospects of Christianity among them. London: Sold by John Mason, 1841 Cr.8vo. xix,376pp. folding map, appendices. The two appendices are (1). A Description of a Slave War, and (2). A Vocabulary of the Fanti Language. John Beecham (1787-1856), became general secretary of the Wesleyan Missionary Society in 1831 and wrote several important works on missions, including this.

Surprisingly Beecham never visited Africa but as Secretary of the Methodist Missionary Society he was able to collect original material. 'With the assistance of Mr. Freeman, and more especially by the aid of Christian natives of the Gold Coast - with two of whom, Mr. Joseph Smith, Headmaster of the Government-School at Cape-Coast Castle, and Mr. William De Graft, son of the linguist, to whom such frequent references are made by Bowdich and Dupuis, the writer is personally acquainted - a full and connected view is furnished of the dark and sanguinary idolatry of the people.' Contemporary ownership signature of Jane Myles to head of title page, covers a little stained and faded, spine rubbed at head and tail, a very nice copy in the publisher's green blind-stamped cloth. £ 400.00

35. BEHRENS, Carl. Da Guinea Var Dansk. Wulff Joseph Wulff's breve og Dagbogsoptegnelser fra Guldkysten 1836 - 1842. Udgivne med noter og oplysninger af Carl Behrens. Kobenhavn: Nyt Nordisk Forlag, 1917 Contemporary binder's half calf with marbled boards, 8vo. 295pp. 4 plates. With a presentation inscription from the author. Concerning the Danish colony on the Gold Coast. £ 50.00

36. BELFIELD, H. Conway. Gold Coast: Report on the legislation governing the alienation of native lands in the Gold Coast Colony and Ashanti; With some observations on the 'Forest Ordinance,' 1911, by H. Conway Belfield, C.M.G., British Resident, Perak, Federated Malay States. Presented to both Houses of Parliament by command of His Majesty July, 1912. [Cd. 6278.] London: Published by H.M.S.O., Printed by Darling and Son, 1912 Later cloth, Imp.4to. 121pp.
Sir Henry Conway Belfield (1855-1923) was a colonial governor and lawyer. His expertise in land law in colonial Malaya led to him being appointed to issue this report on land tenure in the Gold Coast. The Forestry Ordinances became something of a 'cause célèbre' for African nationalists in the last years of the nineteenth century and the first quarter of the twentieth century. As early as 1883 the British government had tried to create forest reserves, ostensibly for conservation. This was resisted by many Africans who saw it as a way of appropriating land. This report went some way towards alleviating those suspicions, although the matter was not finally settled until 1927. This contains evidence from well-known Gold Coast figures including Thomas Hutton Mills, Edmund Bannerman, Attoh Ahuma (Samuel Brew), and Joseph Casely Hayford. Encased in a later blue cloth with an accession number to base of spine and cancelled library bookplate to front endpaper, a very good copy. £ 150.00

37. BELLIS, James O. The "Place of the Pots" in Akan Funerary Custom. Bloomington: African Studies Program, Indiana University, 1982 Wrpps, 4to. 43pp. 32 plates, biblio. £ 50.00

(?1980) Wrpps, 8vo. 105-112pp. biblio. A presentation copy from the author to Timothy Garrard. £ 25.00

43. BOSMAN, Guillaume. Voyage de Guinée. Contenant une description nouvelle & très-exacte de cette Côte ou l'on trouve & ou l'on trafique l'or, les dents d'Elephant, & les Esclaves: de ses Pays, Royaumes, & Republiques, des Moeurs des habitans, de leur Religion, Gouvernement, administration de la Justice, de leurs Guerres, Mariages, Sepultures, etc. Comme aussi de la nature & qualité du terroir, des arbres fruittiers & sauvages, de divers animaux, tant domestiques que sauvages, des bêtes à quatre pieds, des reptiles, des oiseaux, des poissons, & de plusieurs autres choses rares, inconnuë jusques à présent aux Européens. Par Guillaume Bosman, Depuis peu Conseiller & premier Marchand dans le Château de St.George d'Elmina, & Sous-Commandeur de la Côte. Londres: David Mortier, Libraire dans la Strand, 1705 Contemporary calf, Cr.8vo. xvi,520pp portrait frontispiece, extra engraved title page, 18 folding plates comprising 21 views of forts and castles on 11 plates; 29 illustrations of animals, birds and insects on 5 plates; and two further folding plates, one showing an elephant which had broken into the gardens at Accra; and the other the slaughter of pigs after one had devoured an idolatrous serpent worshipped by the Africans. The first French edition was published the year after the original Dutch edition of 1704. The English edition published in the same year had just 7 plates. William Bosman (1672-?) was the Dutch West India Company's chief factor, or European agent, at Elmina on the Guinea Coast in West Africa in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth century. This book is a series of letters written home to an uncle in the Netherlands who was also a director of the Dutch West India Company. It was first published in Dutch in 1704, followed by the first English edition in 1705. This book represents one of the best and accurate accounts of the region, its inhabitants, its geography, trade and flora and fauna, for the period. Carefully rebacked with a new calf spine, lettered and ruled in gilt in a contemporary manner, old inscriptions to endpaper and head of engraved title, occasional light browning in the text, a very nice copy with the text and plates still remarkably clean and crisp. £ 1,250.00

44. BOSMAN, William. A New and Accurate Description of the Coast of Guinea, divided into the Gold, the Slave and the Ivory coasts. Containing a Geographical, Political and Natural History of the Kingdoms and Countries: With a Particular Account of the Rise, Progress, and Present Condition of all the European Settlements upon that Coast; and the Just Measures for Improving the several branches of the Guinea Trade. Illustrated with several Cuts. Written Originally in Dutch by William Bosman, Chief Factor for the Dutch at the Castle of St.George d'Elmina. And now done faithfully into English. To which is Prefix'd, An Exact Map of the whole Coast of Guinea, that was not in the Original. The Second Edition. London: Printed for J. Knapton, D. Midwinter, B. Lintot, G. Strahan, J. Round, and E. Bell, 1721 Contemporary full calf, 8vo. viii,456,16pp. 7 plates (4 of European forts and castles on the coast, and 3 of birds and animals), folding map by Moll as frontispiece, index. '...the brilliant account of the country's human geography.' - [Kwamina B. Dickson, A Historical Geography of Ghana] The contemporary boards in full calf, blind stamped and ruled in gilt, rather worn at the edges and a little marked, the spine recently rebacked in calf with raised bands, the original gilt compartments and the red leather lettering piece carefully restored. Occasional pencilled marginalia; map, plates and text unusually clean and unfoxed, with the bookplate of John Somers, Lord Somers.

A very nice copy. £ 1,200.00

45. BOWDICH, T. Edward. Mission from Cape Coast Castle to Ashantee; With a Statistical Account of that Kingdom, and Geographical Notices of other parts of the Interor of Africa. London: John Murray, 1819 Contemporary full calf, 4to. x,512pp. 7 hand-coloured plates after drawings by Bowdich (2 folding), 3 other plates and 5 sheets of music, folding map, 6 appendices including one linguistic.
Thomas Edward Bowdich (1791-1824) secured a writership in the service of the Royal African Company in 1814, with the help of his uncle, Mr Hope Smith, governor-in-chief of the settlements of the Company. In 1816 the African Company planned a mission to the Asante, and initially contemplated appointing Bowdich to lead it, though on reaching Cape Coast Castle he was judged too young, and Frederick James (the governor of Fort Accra) was appointed to lead the expedition. During the expedition, however, Bowdich took over the leadership of the mission and formed a treaty with the King of the Asante, which promised peace to the British settlements on the coast in return for commercial and political co-operation. This book, published a year after his return in 1818, gives a graphic account of the journey, the negotiations, and of the kingdom of Ashantee at that time. The folding coloured print of 'The first day of the Yam Custom' is justly famous. This work, with its glowing account of Asante society and culture in a powerful and large kingdom in the centre of Western Africa, attracted considerable interest. Some foxing and offsetting of the monochrome plates on to text, endpapers foxed, armorial bookplate of Christopher Turnor (1810-1886), MP for Leicestershire, signature on title, an excellent copy in an attractive binding with particularly fine bright plates. £ 4,000.00

46. BOYLE, Laura. Diary of a Colonial Officer's Wife. London: Collins, 1970 8vo. x,175pp. 4 plates, map, chipped dw.
The diary of of a Ashanti District Commissioner's wife for a year from August 1916.
A very nice copy in the publisher's green cloth with the (chipped) dustwrapper. £ 25.00

47. BRACKENBURY, H. and G. L. Huyshe. Fanti and Ashanti: Three papers read on board the S.S. Ambriz on the voyage to the Gold Coast. By Capt. H. Brackenbury, Royal Artillery, Assistant Military Secretary to Major-General Sir Garnet Wolseley and Captain G. L. Huyshe, Rifle Brigade. With a map by Captain Huyshe.
Edinburgh: William Blackwood and Sons, 1873
Later half calf, Cr.8vo. ix,131pp. folding map.

Sir Henry Brackenbury (1837-1914) was appointed professor of military history at the Royal Military Academy in 1868. When Garnet Wolseley was given command of the Asante expedition in 1873, Brackenbury became Wolseley's assistant military secretary and a member of his ring of military reformers. He served in most of the major actions of the campaign, and back in England wrote a semi-official history, The Ashanti War: a Narrative (1874).
In a later half calf with raised bands and marbled boards, a very good copy. £ 250.00

51. BURTON, Richard. Wanderings in West Africa from Liverpool to Fernando Po. By a F.R.G.S. With map and illustration. In two volumes. London: Tinsley Brothers, 1863 Cr.8vo.
(1). xi,303pp. folding map as frontispiece.
(2). v,295pp. frontispiece of 'The juju, or sacrifice house, Grand Bonny River.'

According to Penzer, Burton intended to suppress his name from this work, however this copy has 'R. F. Burton F.R.G.S.' on the spine. 'Newly married and needing employment, Burton approached the Foreign Office for a consular position, hoping for the post at Damascus. Instead, he was offered the consulship at Fernando Po, a small, unhealthy island in the Bight of Biafra on the west African coast. When he accepted the position on 27 March 1861 he requested to retain his commission in the Bombay army, but he was struck from the list, thereby losing not only his half pay but also any prospect of a pension or sale of his commission, an action about which he always complained bitterly. Burton did not permit Isabel to accompany him to Fernando Po, which he described as 'the very abomination of desolation'. He slipped away from the post at every opportunity for excursions on the African mainland or to meet Isabel in the Canaries or England. Although he loathed Fernando Po, he worked continuously at his writing with Wanderings in West Africa and Abeokuta and the Cameroons Mountains both appearing in 1863.' (ODNB). Both spines are a little faded, bookplate of the Bath Reference Library to front paste-downs, occasional blindstamps, a very nice copy in the publisher's dark purple cloth. £ 850.00

Volume II only. vi,381pp. chromolitho frontispiece, appendices, index. Volume II begins with Burton's diatribe against the Sierra Leoneans, and his journey continues from there to Axim by way of Cape Palmas. From Axim he investigates the gold mines on the Gold Coast. Title a little foxed, covers slightly marked, a very nice copy of the second volume on its own in the publisher's decorated red cloth. £ 350.00

53. BUTLER, W. F. Akim-Foo: The History of a Failure. By Major W. F. Butler, C.B., F.R.G.S. With Route-map, etc. London: Sampson Low, Marston, Low, and Searle, 1875 8vo. 300pp. + 40pp. advertisements, frontispiece, coloured folding map, appendix.
Major William Francis Butler (1838 - 1910) was in command of one of the four columns which operated against the Ashanti during the 1874 war, however before he could attack the Ashanti his Akim troops deserted. An influential work which underwent three editions in that year. Covers spotted and head and tail of spine frayed, inner front hinge splitting, a very nice copy in the publisher's maroon cloth, from the library of the African-American collector and writer, Professor John Ralph Willis with his bookplate. £ 250.00

67. CHRISTALLER, J. G. A Grammar of the Asante and Fanti Language called Tshi [Chwee, Twi]: based on the Akuapem Dialect with reference to other (Akan and Fante) dialects. By the Rev. J. G. Christaller, of the Basel German Evangelical Mission on the Gold Coast, W.A. Basel: Printed for the Basel Evang. Missionary Society, 1875 Recent half calf, 8vo. iv,xxiv,203pp. biblio.
The Reverend Johann Gottlieb Christaller (1827-1895), a German missionary and philologist with the Basel Missionary Society, was sent to the Gold Coast in 1853 by the Basel Mission to work on the Twi language. He made the decision to use the Akuapem dialect of Twi as the literary medium of the language and within a year of his arrival he had produced Old Testament Bible stories in Twi. Between 1859 and 1866, with the assistance of African missionaries and Twi speakers David Asante and Theophilus Opoku, he produced a Twi translation of the New Testament, which was published in Basel in 1871. Aside from his religious translations, Christaller is best known for his grammar of 1875 and dictionary of 1881, in which he employed his wide knowledge of philology, phonetics and linguistics to solve various grammatical problems. This is still regarded as the best Twi grammar, even though the orthography has changed over the years. An excellent copy in a recent half calf with marbled boards. £ 400.00

81. DALZEL, Archibald. The History of Dahomy, an Inland Kingdom of Africa; Compiled from Authentic Memoirs; With an Introduction and Notes. By Archibald Dalzel, formerly Governor at Whydah, and now at Cape-Coast-Castle. London: Printed for the Editor, by T. Spilsbury and Son, Snow-Hill, and sold by J. Evans, Pater-Noster-Row, 1793 Small 4to. xxxvi,xxvi,230pp. engraved folding map as frontispiece, 6 engraved plates, subscribers' list.

Archibald Dalzel (1740-1818) was sent to Anoumabu on the Gold Coast in 1763 as a surgeon employed by the Company of Merchants trading to Africa. After trading in slaves, he became Governor of the British Fort at Whydah during 1767-1770. In 1791 he was appointed Governor of Cape Coast Castle and this work was published while he was there; he resigned as governor in 1802. It is a compilation drawn from his own experiences as well as from the works of Robert Norris, whose personal knowledge of the Guinea coast appears to have reached back at least as far as 1755, and those of William Snelgrave. The map is by Robert Norris and the account of his journey to the Court of Bossa Ahadee, King of Dahomey, is included. Dalzel adds material from other authors and includes an introduction by himself. In his introduction to the 1967 reprint, J. D. Fage points out that: 'despite his pro-slave trade bias, and despite the fact that modern research can fault him on points of detail, [Dalzel] is no mean historian of eighteenth-century Dahomey and its neighbours. His History of Dahomey deservedly served as a standard source for many other distinguished writers on Dahomey, including Sir Richard Burton and Professor Melville Herskovits. It can still be studied with profit, and read with pleasure for its nineteenth century prose.' Half calf with contemporary marbled boards, endpapers and edges. The spine has been carefully rebacked, lettered and tooled in a contemporary style, occasional slight spotting on the plates, the text unusually clean with no offsetting, contemporary bookplate of Thomas Dawson, later bookplate of Edward Geoffrey Sergeant; an excellent copy. [Cardinall: 396; Hogg: 170]. £ 2,000.00

[2],viii,xxxviii,[2],264,cxxxvi pp. 15 plates, comprising 14 aquatints (3 folding and 1 double-page), and 1 engraved plate, 1 folding map, errata, appendices including transcripts of Arabic manuscripts with translations. Joseph Dupuis, while the British vice-consul at Mogador in Morocco, ransomed an African-American seaman calling himself Benjamin Rose from slavery among the desert Arabs in 1814. Two years later, the same man published in London The Narrative of Robert Adams, which recounted the adventures of Robert Adams, who survived shipwreck and slavery. Dupuis was then sent by the British Government to Ashanti as an ambassador in 1820, following the success of Bowdich's visit in 1817. Containing valuable accounts of Ashanti and the interior of the Gold Coast at the beginning of the nineteenth century, well illustrated by the superb folding and full-page aquatints drawn by the author. Encased in a quarter dark-brown morocco with raised bands and gilt title, the boards in a lighter brown cloth, some browning to the plate edges and occasional offsetting from this, particularly on the title page, the map foxed, many pages unopened, a very nice copy. £ 3,500.00

169. GRISET, Ernst. Ernest Griset's Funny Picture Book. London and Edinburgh: William P. Nimmo, nd. [1874] 4to. Containing four separate stories:
(1). A Funny Book about the Ashantees. v,12pp. 16 colour plates.
(2). The Brothers Bold: Their marvellous Adventures in Central Africa. 23pp. 12 colour plates.
(3). The Three Youthful Mariners. 12pp. 12 colour plates.
(4). A Book of Funny Beasts. 12pp. 12 colour plates.
A compilation volume of four children's books by Ernest Griset (1844-1907), the famous French/English Victorian illustrator of anthropomorphic animals. The stories have African themes, the first drawing on the then current war in Ashantee. The plates are coloured lithographs, printed rectos and each has a few lines of nonsense verse. The verses are probably by Tom Hood who collaborated with Griset on Griset's Grotesques, published in 1867; although 'The Brothers Bold' is an adaptation taken from James Greenwood's The Hatchet Throwers of 1866. Spine slightly frayed at head and tail, boards a little rubbed, a nice copy in the publisher's decorated brown cloth.
[See Lionel Lambourne: Ernest Griset, Fantasies of a Victorian Illustrator.] £ 500.00

Sir John Charles Dalrymple Hay (1821-1912) was a naval officer and politician. In 1835 and 1836 he served on the brig Trinculo on the West African anti-slavery patrol. He wrote this work in 1874 during the Ashantee war of that year, drawing on his earlier experiences of West Africa. Covers slightly rubbed, a very nice copy in the publisher's dark-green decorated cloth. £ 300.00

179. HAYFORD, Casely. Ethiopia Unbound: Studies in Race Emancipation. By Casely Hayford, (Ekra-Agiman) Barrister at Law. Author of 'Gold Coast Native Institutions.' London: C. M. Phillips, 1911 8vo. viii,215pp.
Joseph Ephraim Casely-Hayford (1866-1930) was a Gold Coast lawyer and politician who became a famous African nationalist. This political novel drew largely on his experiences while studying at the Bar in London and working in the Gold Coast. In writing this book he was inspired by his wife, Beatrice Madeline Pinnock, a Gold Coast girl whom he had married in London, but who unfortunately died on the Gold Coast in 1902. With the armorial bookplate of Sidney Barton, a diplomat who was consul-general in Shanghai and British minister in Addis Ababa in the Twenties and Thirties; slight marking to spine and boards; a very nice copy in the publisher's gold-lettered brown cloth. £ 1,200.00

180. HAYFORD, Casely. Ethiopia Unbound: Studies in Race Emancipation. By Casely Hayford. Second edition with a new introduction by F. Nnabuenyi Ugonna. Africana Modern Library No. 8. 181. HAYFORD, Casely. Gold Coast Native Institutions. With Thoughts Upon A Healthy Imperial Policy For The Gold Coast And Ashanti. London: Sweet and Maxwell, Ltd., 1903 8vo. xvi,418pp. index.
A study of constitutional history and problems of British administration, with table of cases. The outstanding West African politician and nationalist of his day, Hayford wrote this as a defence of the native African institutions in the Gold Coast. With a presentation inscription from the author to Mrs J. R. Green to head of title. Alice Stopford Green (1847 –1929) the wife of the historian John Richard Green, was an Irish historian and nationalist politician. From the library of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies with bookplate, shelf mark and neat ink-stamp. £ 500.00

182. HINIDZA, R. K. Henowo fe gbe. By R. K. Hinidza, I. K. Hoh, G. W. K. Kwasikuma. Accra: Bureau of Ghana Languages, 1970 Wrpps, 8vo. 211pp.

183. HODGSON, Lady. The Siege of Kumassi. By Lady Hodgson, Wife of Sir Frederic Hodgson, K.C.M.G. Late Governor of the Gold Coast. London: C. Arthur Pearson Ltd, 1901 8vo. 366pp. 32 plates, folding map, index.
Lady Hodgson accompanied her husband Sir Frederic Hodgson, the Governor of the Gold Coast, to Kumasi in Ashanti. Although at first welcomed, various faux pas by Hodgson led to a breakdown of relations and a full-scale revolt. The British contingent were besieged in the fort and Lady Hodgson writes a graphic account of the siege and their subsequent escape from Kumasi to the coast. Old library bookplate to front paste-down, spine marked and rubbed, sections slightly loose, a nice copy in the publisher's decorated maroon cloth.
[Wayward Women: 264] £ 100.00

184. HOME, Robert. Journal of the Engineer Operations on the Gold Coast during the recent Expedition. [London: War Office, 1874] Contemporary binder's red buckram, Imp.4to. 74pp. frontispiece of two photographic views of the Prah river, 18 plates and maps, (including 2 folding plates and a hand-coloured folding map of the action at Amaoful,) a cut-down map from another source is tipped-in. Two hand-written letters are tipped-in, the first addressed to 'Sir Frederic' on Board of Trade writing paper refering to issuing this as a pamphlet, (probably Lt. General Sir F. E. Chapman, K.C.B., RE., Inspector-General of Fortifications) signed by C. S. H...; the second letter is from Robert Home to 'My dear Lucan' on War Office writing paper discussing why he had referred to the Peninsular campaign in this report.
Colonel Robert Home (1837 - 1879) was the chief engineer on the Ashantee expedition of 1873; as a sideline he was also writing reports for 'The Pall Mall Gazette.' In 1873 negociations between the Ashanti and the British floundered and war was declared. The Ashanti believed the prowess of their soldiers, the fastness of the forest and the rainy season would combine to keep the British at bay. However in 1874 under Colonel Home the Royal Engineers constructed a path along the 74 miles from Cape Coast to Prahsu, with eight camp sites, two hospitals, 237 bridges and a telegraph line. This meant that the British troops could march quickly from Cape Coast to the further side of the Prah river with relative ease. They defeated the Ashanti at Amaoful in a fierce battle after which the road to Kumasi was open. This work details Home's construction of the route and some account of the battle at Amaoful. Spine faded and upper hinge weak, a very nice copy in a maroon cloth.

(Price Two Shillings.)

The account of a dispute at the trading settlement of Annamaboe (Anomabu), near Cape Coast Castle on the Gold Coast of Guinea. Mr Hutton, a local trader, refused to give the local chiefs (referred to here as the Pynins) their customary Christmas liquor. The chiefs ordered Hutton to leave their town. An appeal to the local British officials proved useless and Hutton and Mr Dawson the governor of Annamaboe ended up in an unseemly brawl after a hearing in Cape Coast Castle. Also containing accounts of the mistreatment and murder of several British traders. An interesting first-hand view of the life on the Gold Coast at the time. Title page slightly foxed, signature of 'Holland' to head of title, a very nice copy in a red quarter morocco, from the library of the African-American collector and writer, Professor John Ralph Willis with his bookplate. £ 750.00

186. ISERT, Paul Erdman. Voyages en Guinée et dans les Iles Caraibes en Amerique, par Paul Erdman Isert, Ci-devant Médecin-Inspecteur de S.M. Danoise, dans les Possessions en Afrique; Tirés de sa correspondance avec ses Amis. Traduits de l'Allemand, Avec Figures, (Prix 6 liv.) A Paris: Chez Maradan, 1793 Contemporary calf with gilt-decorated spine, 8vo. viii,48,343pp. frontispiece of Femmes Akréenes and a folding plate, meteorological appendix, index.
Paul Erdman Isert (1756 - 1789) was a German botanist who was appointed Chief Surgeon at the Danish fort of Christiansborg in 1783. He was the first European to describe a visit to Ashantee and he took part in a voyage on a ship carrying slaves to the West Indies. So disturbed by his experiences particularly on the slave ship he resolved to establish plantations in Africa. In 1788 he sailed for Africa and established a plantation near Akropong on behalf of the Danish crown. He purchased land from a friend from his previous stay in Guinea, the Akwapim chief, Nana Obuobi Atiemo. With African help the plantation was initally successful however in 1789 Isert was murdered by pro-slavery officials in the Danish establishment at Christiansborg. Partly as a result of this Denmark became the first state to prohibit the slave trade in 1803. This work was much drawn upon by writers on the slave trade. This is the first French edition, being translated from the German 'Reise nach Guinea und den Caribäischen Inseln in Columbia' of 1788. Head and tail of spine rubbed, top joint a little weak, small repair and old stamp to title page, a very nice copy in a contemporary binding. £ 900.00

282. Royal Gold Coast Gazette and Commercial Intelligencer, No. 2. - Vol. I.
Tuesday, April 9, 1822. Cape Coast Castle: Wm. Cooling, Printer, 1822
Small folio [30 x 18.5 cm.], 4pp.
Although this was not the first West African newspaper, (a Sierra Leone Gazette had been started in 1801) the Royal Gold Coast Gazette can rightly claim to be the second. The 'Gazette' was established in 1822 by Sir Charles M'Carthy. Sir Charles M'Carthy (1764-1824) was a French/Irish soldier who had joined the British army during the Napoleonic wars. Having served in the West Indies he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel in the Royal African Corps on 30 May 1811, and the year after was made governor of Senegal and Gorée. After these were returned to France in 1814 M'Carthy was transferred to Sierra Leone as governor, and when Cape Coast Castle was transferred from the Royal African Company to the British crown, he became the Gold Coast's first Crown Governor taking responsibility for all the British settlements on the West African coast. Sir Charles landed at Cape Coast on the 27th of March 1822 and the first issue of the Gazette was published seven days later on the 2nd of April 1822. This copy of the second issue was published one week later. Sir Charles led an enlightened administration, however trouble brewed in the north with the Asante which led to the first Anglo-Asante war. Sir Charles led a small force to Adamanso near Nsamankwo where on 21 January 1824 they were routed by an overwhelming force of Asante. Sir Charles was mortally wounded, and his head taken as a trophy by the Asante back to Kumasi. With his death the 'Gazette' ceased publication having completed 52 issues. This issue priced at 'Six-Pence' consists of four pages of letterpress printed in double-column begins with a government proclamation signed by the Private Secretary J. W. Wetherill, followed by a description of M'Carthy's trip along the coast with Commodore Sir Robert Mends in H.M.S. Iphigenia, an article on the slave trade, and ending with a letter addressed to 'Mr. Editor. A little spotting is present along with some old fold marks, a very nice copy. Also included is a copy of a letter dated December 1977 from H. R. Roth to Col. K. A. B. Jones-Quartey (author of 'History, Politics and Early Press in Ghana') referring to his ownership of this copy. £ 750.00
